ACNP
58TH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN COLLEGE OF NEUROPSYCHOPHARMACOLOGY
DECEMBER 8-11, 2019
HILTON ORLANDO BONNET CREEK | ORLANDO, FLORIDA

2019 ACNP Call for Proposals

The Program Committee is now requesting proposals for panels, mini-panels, and study groups for the Annual Meeting. While scientific quality is paramount, this year the committee will continue to strongly consider the composition of the panels that include women, under-represented minorities and early career scientists and clinicians. In addition, given our College's Latin American initiative, similar consideration will be given to panels including scientists from Latin America.

The committee welcomes submissions on all scientific topics that address the mission of the College. The committee would like to highlight a few areas and encourage the submission of panels and mini-panels on the topics listed below:

1. Neuroinflammation and its link to neuropsychiatric disorders
2. Interface between pain, substance use disorders and affective disorders
3. Computational modeling of behavioral phenotypes as a means to inform diagnosis and treatment; theory-driven computational psychiatry
4. Suicide: risk factors, screening, interventions and therapeutics
5. Neurodevelopmental disorders including autism; developmental origins of mental illness; neural correlates of social and behavioral deficits in ASD and other neurodevelopmental disorders; potential therapeutics for neurodevelopmental disorders
6. Interface between aging and psychiatric diseases; basic and clinical studies; dementias, Alzheimer's disease; Parkinson's disease

The submission guidelines are available below. Please read these very carefully before submitting a proposal. As a reminder, panels will include one (1) chair who will present a 10-minute introduction to outline the goal of the session and four (4) presenters who will have 35 minutes each, including a 25-minute presentation and a 10-minute discussion period. THERE WILL BE NO DISCUSSANT. A co-chair is still optional. Submissions that do not adhere to these guidelines will not be reviewed.
