

Call for Annual Meeting Submissions

You are invited to submit a proposal to the for the 30th Annual Postpartum Support International Conference in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, July 14-15, 2017. The 2017 Conference theme is "Expanding Our Reach on the Front Lines of Care." Due to the professional diversity of PSI membership and conference attendees, we welcome presentations with scientific data as well as those addressing clinical expertise or community projects. Both didactic and experiential proposals for breakouts will be accepted, in addition to the poster submissions.

The Program Committee is especially interested in proposals on the topics of:

- Psychopharmacology
- Psychotherapy
- Diversity & Culturally-Informed Services
- Fathers, Families, and Partners
- Innovations in Solutions
- Peer Support & Community Networks

Please note that presentations should focus on advanced and innovative skills. Most attendees are experienced in perinatal mental health and are eager to learn about advanced clinical skills, innovative approaches and programs, as well as new research.

The annual PSI conference provides an opportunity to meet, learn together, and share ideas with others involved in the field of perinatal mood and anxiety disorders (PMADs). PSI will hold a 2-Day Pre-Conference Certificate Course on July 12-13, 2017 titled, “Perinatal Mood and Anxiety Disorders: Components of Care”. This professional event is a unique training and networking opportunity. In 2015, the conference attracted more than 400 participants. The purpose of the conference is to bring together and inform medical and mental health providers, childbirth professionals, support and resource providers, caregivers, policy-makers, researchers, volunteers, families, and educators who want to improve their understanding of PMADs and improve their ability to serve pregnant, postpartum, and post pregnancy-loss families. We look forward to seeing you in Philadelphia!
