

Name: Jamie Rausch, PhD
Current Title: Assistant Professor
Affiliation: Indiana University Fort Wayne
Candidate for: MNRS Board Director-At-Large

Personal Statement:

Dr. Jamie Rausch, Assistant Professor Tenure Track at Indiana University Fort Wayne, graduated from Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio with a Ph.D. in nursing science (Spring 2020) and was a Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, Future of Nursing Scholar. Additionally, she received her BSN with Cum Laude honors from Ohio University in Athens, Ohio (Spring 2017) and her AND from Columbus State Community College in Columbus, Ohio (Autumn 2007). Dr. Rausch's program of research is focused on clarifying the biological links between systemic inflammation and chronic diseases in aging specifically the effects of the adipokines leptin and adiponectin that regulate inflammation.

I am interested in the position of Board Member At Large to learn more about board responsibilities and to participate in board decision-making. My goal in participation in this position is to gain valuable experience as a leader.

As an At Large Member of the Board, I will encourage membership with diverse scholars; continue to support the Engagement Committee, with my service, to enhance member engagement; offer assistance to marketing/communication/advocacy, with my background as a former graphic designer; and, assist financially by remaining fiscally responsible in my duties, evaluating the influence of fund usage, and maximize member investments for the greatest significance possible.

Dr. Rausch's professional memberships are listed below:

Ohio Nurses Association (2015 – present)
Mid-Ohio District Nurses Association (2015 – present)
