Candidate for: MNRS Board of Directors, President-Elect

Personal Statement:

Dear Colleagues,

It has been my distinct pleasure to serve on your board of directors for the past 6 years. I attended MNRS for the first time in 2010 as a doctoral student. Attendance at the conference back then wasn't required but was "highly recommended." Even though I had not been to this conference before, I knew that other students like myself would be trying to find economical ways to attend, so I worked with our university administrative staff to organize carpools and room sharing. We had an incredible turnout that year of both students and faculty from our school, and I have been a regular attendee ever since.

What I love most about MNRS is how we fully center nursing science and its implementation in clinical practice. Though we are a relatively large organization with over 900 members, we have created a welcoming and inclusive space where new connections are regularly formed, and the collective strength of our diverse membership drives innovation, advocacy, and meaningful change in nursing and healthcare.

During my tenure on the board, I have worked hard to ensure that our organization positions members for success as clinician scholars and leaders, while remaining attentive to the needs of all. I advocated for our conference abstracts to be published and indexed, expanding both the visibility of our work and the professional impact of our members. I also helped facilitate the launch of our new need-based scholarships that defray conference costs for RIG leaders and served on the original planning committee that developed and launched our now highly successful Leadership Academy. Thank you for all that you do to help keep this organization thriving. I am so proud to be a part of this community and would be honored to continue serving you on the Board of Directors as the next President.
