*This Center is one of the 14 NIOSH-funded Education and Research Centers. In a cooperative effort by the School of Nursing, School of Public Health and College of Engineering, graduate programs are offered in occupational health nursing, occupational medicine, industrial hygiene, and safety engineering. Continuing education and outreach services are provided in all occupational health and safety disciplines.

**This Division of Nursing, HEW, $887,350, special project grant supported the development and initiation of BSN programs for RNs at three off-campus sites and the design and production of self-instructional packages (print and media) for 14 courses in the BSN program.

Funded Research

Project Title	Role	Source	Dates	Funding (Total Direct and Indirect)
Effectiveness of Computer-based Hearing Test and Training	Co-Principal Investigator (Oi-Saeng Hong, Principal Investigator)	NIOSH (1R010H0403401A1)	2000-2003	$756,592
A Preliminary Study to Evaluate the Benefits of Self-Medication using Over-the-Counter Medication Dispensing System in an Automotive Plant	Co-Principal Investigator (Y. Abdo, Principal Investigator)	Medique Products	1998-99	$76,636
Intervention to Prevent Construction Worker Hearing Loss	Co-Principal Investigator (M. Kerr, Principal Investigator)	NIOSH	1997-2000	Subcontract $147,062 University of Minnesota $449,992
Test of Interventions to Prevent Workers' Hearing Loss	Principal Investigator	NIH/NINR (2 R01 NR02050)	1996-2002	$1,422,492
Preventing NIHL in Construction Workers	Principal Investigator	NIOSH Research Grant (R01 OH03136)	1993-1997	$ 683, 954
Noise Effects on Cardiovascular and Stress-Related Diseases	Principal Investigator	The UAW-GM National Joint Committee on Health and Safety (NJCHS) and its Occupational Health Advisory Board	1993-1995	$ 247,359
Supplement to Nursing Model to Prevent Noise-Induced Hearing Loss	Principal Investigator	NIH Office of Research on Women and Health, NIH, NR02050	1991-1993	$ 38,482
Hearing Protection in Mexican-American Workers	Principal Investigator	University of Michigan, Office of the VP for Research	1991-1993	$ 4,000
Nursing Model to Prevent Noise-Induced Hearing Loss	Principal Investigator	National Center for Nursing Research and National Institute on Deafness and Other Communication Disorders, NIH, R01 NR02050	1989-1993	$279,422
Evaluation of Nursing Home Records	Principal Investigator	NIOSH Research Contract	1989	$ 3,140
Predictors of Workers' Use of Hearing Protection	Principal Investigator	Biomedical Grant	1986-1988	$ 1,662
Psychosocial and Ergonomic Stressors of Nursing Home Employees	Principal Investigator	NIOSH Research Contract	1988	$ 10,460

Determining OHN's Interest in Advanced Education	Principal Investigator	Subproject of NIOSH Grant to Michigan Center for Occupational Health and Safety Education	1984-1985	$ 13,000 (approx.)
Assessing Demand for OHNs	Principal Investigator	Subproject of NIOSH Grant to Michigan Center for Occupational Health and Safety Education	1983-1984	$ 13,000 (approx.)
Attitudes and Factual Knowledge of Aging and Cognitive Styles of Nursing Students	Co-Principal Investigator with R. Williams	Subproject NRE Grant	1982-1985	$ 22,410 (approx.)
Relationship of Locus of Control, Attitudes toward Poor, and Performance of Nursing Students in Community Health	Principal Investigator	Biomedical Grant	1982-1984	$ 1,500
Women and Minorities Research Facilitation	Member of one of seven research teams. Designed and conducted research project for team	National Institute of Education	1978-1980	$ 7,500
