

2023 ISBD Call for Proposals ISBD 2023 Annual Conference

The Program Committee is now requesting proposals for parallel symposia, interactive workshops, posters, and new & trending oral presentations for the 2023 Annual Conference.

In accordance with the expanded theme of the 25th Annual ISBD Conference 2023, we would like to highlight that, in addition to our focus on bipolar disorder, we are also accepting proposals that focus on mood disorders more broadly, including major depressive disorder and other disorders that commonly co-occur with bipolar disorder.

ISBD will give special consideration to submissions that represent collaborations between ISBD Chapters, Task Forces, or members of the Early Mid-Career Committee (EMCC).

The International Society for Bipolar Disorders (ISBD) continues to strive to present a plurality of perspectives, particularly in the following domains:

Gender: The Society will consider gender balance when assessing submissions for the 25th Annual Conference in Chicago. We strongly encourage women to submit proposals and urge all colleagues to consider gender diversity when assembling submissions for ISBD 2023

Early Career Members: In order to support those at an early stage of career development, submissions that include or are led by junior colleagues are especially encouraged.

Innovation: Symposia fostering transdisciplinary and novel approaches especially from outside the traditional mold will be favored. Similarly, presenters from outside the core discipline are encouraged.

Geography: ISBD has over 26 chapters from all over the globe. Proposals that include individuals from multiple ISBD chapters/geographic areas are best positioned to represent our broad constituency.

The quality of the submitted proposal will be the primary factor considered in the scientific review process, however, inclusion as chairs and presenters of women, early career professionals, and participants from diverse geographic regions will enhance the desirability of proposals for the program.

Topic areas include:

- Basic research:
 - Biomarkers
 - Brain Structure and Function
 - Genetics
 - Omics
 - Physiological, Molecular, Cellular Markers and Models
 - Animal Models

- Applied research and/or clinical practice:
 - Assessment
 - Diagnosis and Classification
 - Medical Comorbidity
 - Psychiatric Comorbidity
 - Disability / Rehabilitation
 - Cognition
 - Integrative Treatments (i.e., pharmacological, somatic, psychological)
 - Developmental Psychopathology, Prodromes, Early Recognition

- Illness Course, Staging
- Psychosocial Treatments and Self-Management
- Quality of Life
- Stigma
- Suicide and Self-Harm
- Trauma
- Updates on Treatment Guidelines

- Population Health/Analysis
 - Big Data and Machine Learning
 - Population Health
 - Epidemiology
 - Economics

- Special groups
 - Advocacy and Patient Organizations
 - Children and Adolescents
 - Cultural Differences and Its Consequences
 - Racial & Ethnic Considerations
 - Sex & Gender Related Issues
 - Older Adults (the elderly)

- Hot Topics (i.e., psychedelics)

The conference also welcomes submissions outside of the specific topics above, so long as they are relevant to bipolar and depressive disorders.

Symposia, Workshop, and Poster/New & Trending Oral Proposal Submission Guidelines and Instructions:

The submission guidelines are available below. Please read these carefully before submitting a proposal. As a reminder, symposia must be structured to incorporate discussion, with a short introduction given by the Chair of three minutes, followed by 3 presentations of 15 minutes. Each 15-minute session should consist of 10 minutes for the actual presentation and allow 5-minutes for Q&A. At the end of the session there should be 5 minutes for concluding remarks from the Chair. Submissions that do not adhere to these guidelines will not be reviewed.

- Symposium Submission Guidelines
- Interactive Workshop Guidelines
- Poster/New & Trending Oral Submission Guidelines

All submissions must be submitted through the online submission system. Please click here to access the submission system. Please note, if you are a current ISBD member, you already have an account in the system and can reset your password.

Deadlines:

Chairs Review & Finalize Proposed Sessions for Symposia & Interactive Workshops

DEADLINE EXTENDED: Tuesday, October 25th

Abstracts for New & Trending Oral Presentations and Posters

DEADLINE: Friday, January 13th

For more information, please contact the office of the conference organizers at ISBD@parthenonmgmt.com or (615) 324-2365